

Cecily Crampin Called 2008

Practice Summary

Cecily practises all aspects of property law, including both residential and commercial landlord and tenant law and real property. She likes difficult legal problems.

Cecily has expertise in the Building Safety Act 2022. She has advised on the duty to undertake the type of remediation works caught by Part 5 of the Act, on the application of the service charge limits in Schedule 8, and the application of the associated provisions for recovery between landlords, and on the leaseholder and landlord certificate process including in cases with chains of leases, and in relation to Islamic finance mortgages. She was and is junior counsel for the Respondents, led by Jonathan Selby KC of Keating Chambers, in Triathlon v SVDP & Others [2024] UKFTT (PC), fully fought applications for remediation contribution orders under the Building Safety Act 2022, heard in the FTT by the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber) President and Deputy President. Triathlon is due to be heard on appeal to the Court of Appeal in the spring of 2025.

Cecily has extensive experience in: Landlord and Tenant Act 1954 lease renewals including difficult opposed lease renewals; in complicated forfeiture claims; in property cases with issues as to trust or company ownership; in Party Wall etc Act 1996 work, on which she often gives seminars for the Faculty of Party Wall Surveyors and for the Pyramus and Thisbe Club; and, with Stephen Jourdan KC, on property issues arising out of the sanctioning of individuals (for example under the Russian sanctions regime).

Cecily has a particular interest in mortgage law, in particular the more difficult mortgage possessions. With her colleague, Stephanie Tozer KC, she authored a new book, Mortgage Receivership: Law and Practice (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, October 2018). The second edition, with Stephanie Tozer KC and Tricia Hemans, was published by Wildys in May 2024, and considers the application of new legislation such as the Building Safety Act 2022 to receivers, and the effect of sanctioning of the borrower. In 2023 she successfully led Taylor Briggs, pro bono, for the Fourth Defendant, in Barnard v Brandon & Others [2023] EWHC 3043 (Ch) which involved mortgagee sale to self and sale at less than the best price reasonably obtainable. She is currently instructed in relation to the mortgage issues in a large commercial dispute, and in a case, most recently considered on appeal in Dattani & Anr v Ferns [2024] EWHC 2980 (Ch) on whether a conveyancing solicitor has liability to a judgment creditor when he transfers the proceeds of sale of a property on the instructions of his principals, where there is a charging order over a beneficial share in the property protected by a standard form K restriction.

Cecily is also the co-editor, with Michael Ranson, of Falcon Chambers' book Charging Orders on Land: Law, Practice and Precedents, 2nd edition (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, January 2024).

- Education

MA (Oxon) MSc DPhil

Before coming to the Bar, Cecily successfully completed a doctorate in mathematical logic (her thesis title is Reducts of Differentially Closed Fields to Fields with a Relation for Exponentiation) at the University of Oxford. From this education come her analytical skills, perseverance, and sense of humour. Her CPE (distinction) and BVC (very competent) are both from City University.

- Professional

Cecily's current and recent work includes: Building Safety Act 2022 advice and a number of complicated mortgage claims including those raising unfair relationship issues under the Consumer Credit Act 1974; cases on the interaction of lender's powers and the borrower's attempts to sell; a case with issues as to breach of a receivers' duties; and a case dealing with the residue of the proceeds of sale of mortgaged property when there are competing claims. She has also worked with Gregory Jones KC, on a heavily contested opposed lease renewal under the 1954 Act, and, led by Stephen Jourdan KC, cases about the effect of sanctioning of an individual on property transactions.

Other recent work includes: a claim relating to costs of removing overspill under the Party Wall Act 1996; a s84 Law of Property Act 1925 application, led by Guy Fetherstonhaugh KC; a complicated commercial forfeiture and relief from forfeiture claim, led by Caroline Shea KC, for which Cecily drafted the pleading; defending a high profile forfeiture claim led by Gary Cowen KC in which Cecily gave early advice unled; a complicated licence for alterations case about a high value property; advising on the structure of lending and mortgages in a scheme where interest is not to be charged; led by Stephen Jourdan KC, a party wall appeal, K Group Holdings Inc & Anr v Saidco International SA and Ors which raised limitation issues; and Poundland Limited v Toplain Limited, a County Court unopposed 1954 Act lease renewal in which the court decided that no Covid-19 clause should be included in the new lease.

Cecily is a member of the Property Bar Association (although she stepped down as a member of the PBA committee in November 2022 she continues as a co-opted member), and of the ChBA. She is the first barrister member of NARA (the National Association of Receivers and Administrators). She often speaks at conferences and seminars, including for the Pyramus and Thisbe Club and the Faculty of Party Wall Surveyors. She has also co-written an article on s126 of the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and its application to regulated mortgage contracts with Prof Lisa Whitehouse of Southampton University on mortgage law and time orders. She is a reviewer for Advocate.

- Recent Cases

- Dattani & Anr v Ferns [2024] EWHC 2980 (Ch) a claim for recovery against a judgment debtor and his wife as co-owners of the family home, and against their conveyancing solicitors, arising out of distribution of the proceeds of sale of that family home. Against Cecily's client, the conveyancing solicitors, the judgment creditors claim damages and accounts on the grounds that the conveyancing solicitors were constructive trustees of the proceeds of sale, or gave dishonest assistance to the judgment debtor in paying the proceeds, on instruction, to the judgment debtor's wife, with the dishonesty alleged on the basis that there was a form K standard restriction on the title to the family home protecting the judgment creditors' charging order over the judgment debtor's beneficial interest in it. On appeal, Master McQuail's strike out of the claim on both grounds was reversed as to dishonest assistance, with the appeal against the strike out of the constructive trust claim dismissed.
- Reynolds v Tifrit & Ors (August 2024) for the Claimant and the Part 20 Defendant bank. This was a receivers' claim for possession in which the Defendant borrower joined the mortgagee alleging that the loan was a sham, alternatively unfair under the s140A-C provisions of the Consumer Credit Act 1974. Recorder Mullen, hearing the trial in the County Court at Central London concluded that the loan was not a sham by reason of a number of inconsistencies in the Defendant's written and oral evidence as against the documents, and that the unfair relationship claim was pleaded with insufficient detail for the Defendant to pursue it.
- Triathlon v SVDP & Ors
[2024] UKFTT (PC) for the Respondents, led by Jonathan Selby KC, before the Upper Tribunal (Lands Chamber) President, Mr J Edwin Johnson, and Deputy President, Martin Rodger KC. This was the hearing of high value remediation contribution order applications under the Building Safety Act 2022 in relation to the former Olympic Village. The decision decides matters of statutory interpretation of Part 5 of the Act, as well as relevant factors in the just and equitable test in s124. The appeal in the Court of Appeal is due to be heard in the Spring of 2025.
- Barnard v Brandon & Ors [2023] EWHC 3043 (Ch) a claim arising out of the order on a fraudulent misrepresentation sale claim involving issues about construction of orders, trust law, mortgagee sale to self and sale at less than the best price reasonably obtainable. Cecily led Taylor Briggs pro bono for the Fourth Defendant. At the consequentials hearing, Cecily obtain a pro bono costs order.
- Fairhold Homes v Heritage Court RTM Company Ltd
(June 2023) a claim in which the freeholder of a retirement block of flats sought rent, licence fee, or damages for trespass for the continued use by the RTM company of a flat for housing a caretaker. The RTM company argued that the right to manage the block included the right to use the flat for the caretaker and hence nothing was payable. Recorder Padley disagreed. The acquisition of the RTM did

- not permit that use given that the freeholder under the flat leases had no obligation to use the flat to house a caretaker. See L&TR 2023 27(6) 236-239 for an article Cecily has written on this case with Daniel Black.
- Gregory v Ajayi (November 2022) a claim for a share of the expenses of creating a basement wall with a counterclaim for the costs of removing overspill said to have been caused by those works, under the Party Wall Act 1996.
 - Butler-Creagh v Cork (Unreported, 27 April 2022, Insolvency and Companies List ChD, ICC Judge Jones) a lease held on trust by a discharged bankrupt for his parents for life himself in reversion was not after-acquired property. On bankruptcy, the bankrupt's reversionary equitable interest vested in the bankrupt's estate. The trustees in bankruptcy were entitled to wait until the last of the parents' deaths to seek an order for possession and sale.
 - K Group Holdings Inc & Anr v Saidco International SA and Ors (Unreported, 19 July 2021, Central London County Court, HHJ Parfitt) led by Stephen Jourdan KC in drafting the grounds of appeal, but appearing alone at the substantive appeal hearing. A successful party wall appeal on many grounds in relation to an award made 11 years after original awards and against a new party as if building owner. In particular, HHJ Parfitt found that the Limitation Act 1980 applied to the purported award of compensation for alleged water damage more than 6 years earlier.
 - Poundland Limited v Toplain Limited (Unreported, 2 July 2021, Brentford County Court, DJ Jenkins) no Covid-clause, reducing rent and service charge by 50% during a further Covid-19 lockdown would be added to an existing lease for an unopposed 1954 Act renewal since its introduction would not be fair or reasonable.
 - Ahuja v Kerrigan & Anr (Unreported, 3 October 2019, ChD, Nugee J) Interim injunction to prevent receivers' sale of mortgaged property given arguable case of breach of regulatory requirements.
 - Mirza v Elmdon Real Estates LLP (Unreported, 28 June 2019, Newcastle County Court, HHJ Kramer) Unclear reasoning was not a ground for setting aside an expert determination of a rent review.
 - Whitehall Court London Ltd v Crown Estate Commissioners [2018] EWCA Civ 1704, led by Stephen Jourdan KC, which decided that the no-Act assumption in valuations for lease extensions extended to the block containing the subject flat. Cecily acted alone at first instance.
 - Sloane Stanley Estate Trustees v Mundy [2016] UKUT 223 (LC), led by Philip Rainey KC, a case about the use of the hedonic regression statistical methodology in valuations under the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993.
 - Patel v Peters [2014] EWCA Civ 335 a case on the meaning of sections 10(6) and 10(7) of the Party Wall etc Act 1996. Cecily appeared at the trial, drafted the grounds for the application for permission to appeal, and led by Nick Isaac, succeeded on appeal.
 - St John's Wood Leases Limited v O'Neil [2012] UKUT 374 (LC) a case on the application of s20C of the Landlord and Tenant Act 1985.
 - Country Trade Ltd v Noakes [2011] UKUT 407 (LC) a service charge case.
